Peace Talk Isn't Clear To U.S. Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg says recent apparent peace overtures by North Vietnam have been unclear on "very consequential matters."

The U.S. ambassador to the United Nations said Friday that North Vietnam has not made it clear whether it would enter peace talks without preconditions, or is determined to stay away until the United States accepts terms it already has rejected.

Referring in a Howard University speech to recent statements from Hanoi, Goldberg said: "Do these statements

Thant issued his appeal one day after Secretary of State Dean Rusk said at his Washington news conference that the North Vietnamese "cannot expect us to stop our military action by bombing while they continue their military action by invasion" of South Vietnam.

Thant's statement, was regarded in some quarters, as a reaction to Rusk's remarks.

Thant told a news conference Jan. 10 that he felt there would be no move toward peace while the bombing of North Vietnam continued.

On the eve of the cease-fire a spokesman said Thant "feels very strongly that an extension would be very desirable" in creating an atmosphere for peace talks.

Tet

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — War-weary Saigon has turned into a carnival town this week as nearly three million citizens celebrate the lunar new year.

Everyone from government officials to street beggars appear to have a string of firecrackers to pop, a broad smile and a good wish for anyone they encounter.

To Americans the holiday known as Tet resembles a Mardi Gras celebration with Christmas, Thanksgiving and Easter thrown in.

Vietnam's celebration of the lunar new year, proclaimed by the ancient Chinese calendar, is the biggest celebration of the year.

mean that Hanoi is willing to enter negotiations only if there is an assurance in advance that the outcome will be on their terms?

Preconditions?

"Such an attitude would not be conducive to peace and would make the outlook for a settlement bleak indeed," he said.

But Goldberg said that if North Vietnam is not demanding that its terms be preconditions to talks, "then the prospects should be more promising."

Goldberg said one area of agreement between the two sides is that Vietnam should have independence. He repeated that the United States is willing to accept removal of its military bases after the war and would not demand a military alliance with South Vietnam.

Truce Extension

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant has made an appeal for "an indefinite and unconditional extension" of the lunar new year cease-fire in Vietnam.

In a statement issued Friday night, Thant also called for "an unconditional end" to the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. He expressed belief that both sides would help bring about peace talks.

Answer To Rusk

The Tet or lunar new year cease-fire started at 6 p.m. EST Tuesday, South Vietnam and the United States agreed to a four-day truce ending at 6 p.m. EST today, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong declared a seven-day truce ending at 6 p.m. EST next Tuesday.

North Vietnam has said a halt in the bombing could lead to peace talks.

Lansing's Fire Dept. Strike Crisis Grows

Chinese Rally Blasts Soviet Leader Group

TOKYO (AP) — Some 100,000 supporters of Mao Tse-tung rallied in Peking today and called for "solidarity between the Chinese and Soviet peoples to overthrow the Soviet revisionist leadership clique."

In a live broadcast of the rally, Radio Peking said the "revolutionary rebels" gathered to denounce "fascist violence by Soviet revisionists" and to support a Chinese protest against Soviet demonstrations at the Chinese Embassy in Moscow.

Premier Chou En-lai gave an anti-Soviet speech, but told the through a strict distinction should be made between the Soviet people and the "handful of Soviet revisionist leadership group," the Chinese term for the Kremlin's leaders.

Earlier in the day, Radio Peking said the Foreign Ministry filed a second protest with the Soviet government, warning that unless anti-Chinese demonstrations are stopped in Moscow, the Soviet Embassy in Peking may have to bear grave consequences. The consequences were not spelled out.

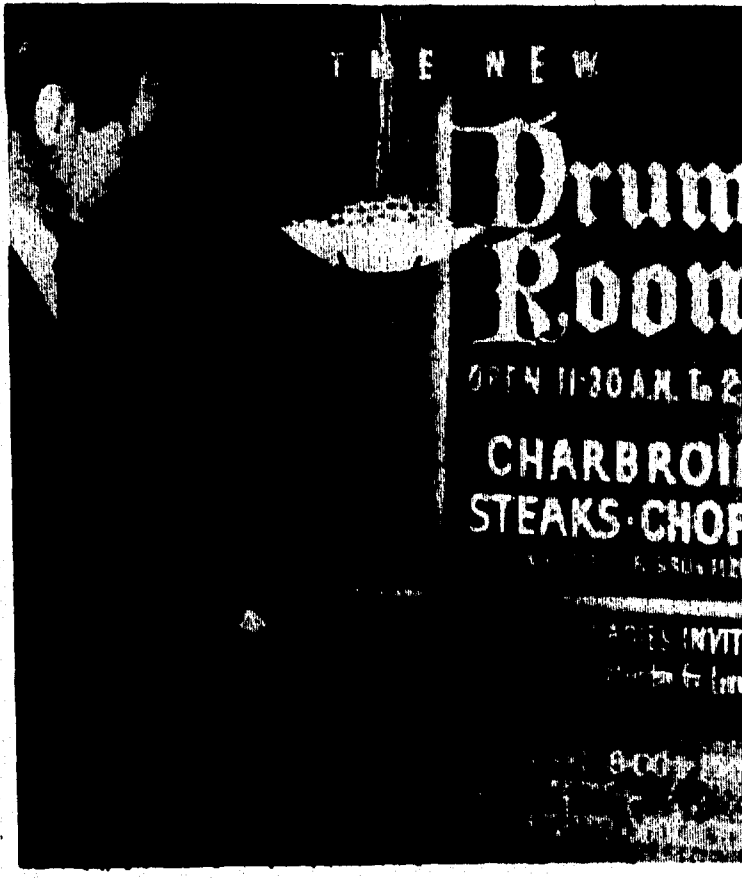

Another aspect of the freeze in relations between the two Communist giants is the scrapping of an agreement permitting travel between them without visas.

Red Guard Recalled by Japanese newsmen, quoting well-known Maoist Lin Biao has ordered all troops roving around the country in what is called "exchanges of experiences" on the cultural revolution, to return to their barracks by Feb. 20.

The order applied also to students of military schools, workers at plants turning out military supplies and other bodies connected with the army.

Lin's orders to troops to get back to their units was coupled with another Japanese report from Peking that the regular army had taken over all Chinese civil aviation facilities, including airports and the civil aviation institutes.

The report said the move was issued "to prepare for war" but did not indicate what was meant by the phrase.

27 Disciplined And 50 Staying At Home 'ILL'

LANSING (AP) — Lansing's 264-man fire department was at least 27 men short-handed today because of disciplinary suspensions, and there were fears the problem would grow.

The Lansing Police and Fire Commission met in closed session today to map the next step in its campaign to end the dispute, which erupted when firemen refused to paint the basement of one station and perform other non-firefighter chores.

Authorities attributed the action to a campaign for more pay.

More than 50 men reported they were staying home because of illness Friday, acting Chief Donald Burnett said.

A number came back to work later, he said, and the department was awaiting reports on medical examinations for the others.

"If they are not sick they will be suspended," Burnett said.

He suspended 10 men Friday, in addition to 17 suspended Thursday.

Burnett and Gary Thomas, local president of the firefighters union, both felt the manpower problems could grow.

Pickets Threatened

Harold Mings, president of the Lansing Building and Construction Trades Council, said unless the city acts soon to resolve the problems, union tradesmen may leave city construction projects and picket in support of the firemen.

He said about 35 picketed outside city hall Friday.

Union painters were picketing one fire station when the first six suspensions came.

Burnett said the suspensions came after six firemen refused to obey an order to do some painting in the fire station basement. The firemen pointed out the picket line and said they were not the proper men to do the job.

11 Suspended

"This is work normally done by our contractors," Mings said. "We feel it is our job. Theirs is to fight fires."

Later Thursday, 11 firemen were suspended for refusing to obey an order to clean some administrative offices in the central fire station, Burnett said.

The Police and Fire board held an emergency meeting and scheduled a hearing next Tuesday for the suspended men.

Burnett said eight of the men suspended Friday refused to obey any orders, and two neither reported for work nor called in sick.

"The union has done everything it can to urge the men to stay on duty," Thomas said. "I think the situation would have been worse otherwise."

Wage Dispute

The union has been embroiled in a wage dispute with the city for more than a year, but it had not discussed or anticipated the issue which led to the first six suspensions, said Thomas, who was among the six.

"The action that triggered this is independent of the problem we have been having all along—wages," he said.

Perhaps, he added the problem was an "offshoot — a result of the treatment the men received in the negotiations."

The firemen received a $324 a year raise last July 1 — to a salary of $6,856 for a firefighter with four years' service but have been asking at least $300 more.

Demand Equal Pay

They first sought equal pay with policemen, who now receive $7,414 after four years, but Lansing voters turned down that proposal in the Nov. 8 election.

The city has said there will be no further raise this year, and suggested a start on negotiations for next year's pay.

The firemen filed an unfair labor practices charge with the State Labor Mediation Board, accusing the city of "surface bargaining" with no intent to reach agreement.

The city denied the charges.

The union has not called a strike, Thomas said.

"If a man is suspended now, it's going to be for something he did himself," Thomas said. "We have people going from station to station asking the men to stay there and do what they are told."

UAW Walkout Up To Reuther

DETROIT (AP) — Has Walter P. Reuther taken his United Auto Workers beyond the point of no return in criticizing the parent AFL-CIO and personally attacking its president, George Meany?

There were opinions today both ways, within and without the UAW.

But UAW rank and file reached in a Detroit spot check left no doubt about the membership's feeling: What Reuther wants, Reuther gets.

And there was no doubt the UAW's call for reorganization of what it termed a "vegetating" AFL-CIO carried with it a definite threat of walkout.

Waste No. 1

A Washington source reportedly close to Meany said the UAW's 7,000-word manifesto added up to just one thing: "Reuther wants to be president of the AFL-CIO."

One source within the UAW who declined use of his name said "I think Walter gave up that idea some time ago."

In several disputes with Reuther, the 73-year-old Meany has demonstrated that within the AFL-CIO's ruling Executive Council he has overwhelming support.

One of the most powerful voices in organized labor in Michigan expressed confidence Reuther did not plan a pullout. He also expressed doubt Meany would precipitate developments that would leave the UAW no other choice.

Expect Pullout

Also from Washington came reports that most high officials in other labor unions say Reuther appears to already have made up his mind to pull his 1.4 million out of the 13.5 million-member federation.

While denouncing Meany's leadership and demanding "internal reform" Thursday, at no place in its manifesto did the UAW directly threaten walkout, although many in labor and outside read into it a strong threat.

The UAW went to some pains to insist its criticisms did not amount to a power play. It said it had chosen not to involve other AFL-CIO affiliates in its public quarrel.

"To have done so," it said, "would have opened us to the charge that we are building a power caucus within the AFL-CIO and that this was not a principled fight, but a political power drive."

Can He Stay?

Some have questioned whether the 59-year-old Reuther could remain in the federation as long as Meany is president, Reuther having said what he did about Meany.

He accused Meany of violating constitutional and convention mandates of the AFL-CIO which do not meet his "personal pleasure," and also came close to saying Meany is "vegetating" along with the AFL-CIO.

Blackbird Damage Is Heavy Near Monroe Marshes

LANSING (AP) — Hungry blackbirds caused corn damage that ran as high as 36 per cent on some Monroe County farms, according to a joint federal-state field survey.

Damage ran as high as 36 per cent in the eastern part of the county but amounted to only one per cent or less four or five miles away from blackbird roosts in Lake Erie marshes, the study indicated.

The survey was conducted by the Michigan Department of Agriculture in conjunction with the federal government.

Jury Frees Block Of Income Charge

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A federal court jury has found Grand Rapids attorney Clem H. Block innocent of charges of willfully failing to file federal income tax returns in 1960 and 1961.

The jury deliberated for about five hours Friday before returning the verdict. They said Block had not filed the returns in question, but said he did not do so willfully.

Space Runs Short:

Arlington Burial Rules Tightened

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arlington National Cemetery is temporarily running out of burial space, so the Pentagon is imposing stricter eligibility requirements.

Only active duty and retired career servicemen, plus Medal of Honor winners and high government officials can be buried at Arlington effective next week, an announcement Friday said.

That means virtually all non-career veterans will be barred from the famed cemetery on gently rolling Virginia hillsides across the Potomac River from Washington.

The cemetery includes the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers and the grave of President John F. Kennedy. It was the burial site early last week of Apollo astronaut Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

Amvets To Appeal

One veterans group, the American Veterans of World War II (amvets), said it would ask the President and Congress to reconsider the move by the Army, which administers the cemetery.

The Pentagon said the policy change does not apply to the other 67 active national cemeteries.

The Pentagon said it plans to add about 60,000 more graves sites adjacent to Arlington beginning in December 1969. But only 6,437 sites remain now available—less than a year's requirements at the current rate of more than 7,000 burials annually.

Honor Commitments

Non-career veterans and their dependents, who now will be buried, made up about half of last year's burials. The Pentagon said the Vietnam war accounted for 280 burials last year and "has not been a major factor" in the space shortage.

The Pentagon said the new policy "does not affect previous commitments to eligible survivors" of persons already buried there.

Lakes Levels Over Average

DETROIT (AP) — Water levels of the Great Lakes currently are higher than average for the last 10 years and are expected to stay that way for at least the next six months.

Top levels in 1967 are expected to be a bit higher or approximately the same as in 1966.

This was the forecast today of lake survey experts of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Outlooks are limited to six months ahead.

Rises normally begin in spring on all the lakes and climax in June or July, with levels receding over the fall and winter months.

Lake Ontario, currently about nine inches above its 10-year average, is expected to equal by July 1 its 1860-1966 average.

None of the others is expected to do this well, but all will top by a foot to two feet so-called Low Water Datum, an arbitrarily fixed line from which channel depths are calculated.

Erie, shallowest of the lakes, is expected to top Low Water Datum by two feet. It currently is about four inches above its 10-year average level and four inches above what it was at the same time a year ago. A sharp rise is expected to begin in March and continue through June.

Lakes Huron and Michigan, which have common levels because they are joined by the Straits of Mackinac, are only about an inch above their 10-year average now and are three inches below the similar 1966 period, but a gradual rise is expected to begin this month and add a bit better than 10 inches by the end of July.

Lake Superior, largest and deepest of all, barely is above its 10-year average and was about two inches lower at the beginning of this month than on Feb. 1, 1966. Its gain is expected to match by July the 1860-66 average, which is higher on all the lakes than the 10-year average.

WOMEN FINALLY GET VOTE; SUSAN B. ANTHONY LEADS BATTLE

The idea that women be allowed to vote was first seriously proposed at a women's rights convention in Seneca Falls, N.Y. in 1848—but it was to be 72 years later before voting by women became a nation-wide fact. A law states before to permit it. Wyoming was first, in 1893. But most were against it. Most famous heroine in the battle was Susan Brownell Anthony who's credited with doing more than anyone else in bringing women suffrage before the country. The most remarkable aspect, when you stop to think about it, is that denying woman suffrage meant that about one-half the U.S. population was prohibited from voting. Finally, on Aug. 26, 1920 the 19th Amendment went into effect giving women throughout the nation the right to vote—and a long-time inequity was ended forevermore.

Copper Market Chaotic

By JEAN WORTH

To understand the Upper Peninsula's important copper industry it is necessary to understand the world copper market.

It is, says Dr. James Boyd, president of Copper Range Co., which owns the White Pine Copper Co., in "complete chaos."

There has never, he says, been a more chaotic situation in the copper industry for such a long period of time. There are 12 or 14 different prices for the copper that is sold.

Government influences the domestic industry so that the base price is held at 38 cents a pound, but if you want to buy copper on the open market that's another story. The market, for instance, is paying 52 or 53 cents a pound — and even up to 60 cents — for copper scrap.

And if you buy Canadian copper in the United States market, it is 44 cents a pound today. The price of copper went as high as 80 cents a pound last summer.

Difficult Market
In this country the open market price is in the low 50s.

Africa and Chile base their prices on the London Metal Exchange and today it's the equivalent of about 52 or 53 cents.

"This," says Dr. Boyd in a calm understatement, "makes any marketing a difficult problem. The reason is that for two or three years the total demand for copper has been in excess of production or scrap generation, so a lot of people who'd like to have copper couldn't get it and still can't."

"Strangely, during all this time not an automobile nor a piece of military equipment or essential electrical equipment has failed to be produced for lack of copper. They have had to pay high prices, but it was produced."

Many Substitutions
"But many potential users of copper had to substitute inferior materials; they couldn't get copper, or they couldn't pay the price."

"By 1970 or '71 the total free world production is going to approximate 7 million tons a year. It is now just short of 5 million tons. So there are going to be steadily increasing supplies. But concurrently there will be steadily increasing demands."

increasing demands.

"So, although there is some fear of a glut, I don't think it is going to happen unless there is a fairly deep recession in the world and in the United States."

"The military requirements on domestic producers was 26 per cent of their 1965 production and for the first quarter of 1967 it was 29 per cent. This is what the producers set aside for defense orders. This is a steadily growing demand and it is likely to continue as long as there is a war in Vietnam."

Helps U. P. Economy
"The Upper Peninsula is interested in copper because it contributes to the local economy. No metal has a comparable combination of qualities that copper does," said Dr. Boyd, a member of Operation Action—U. P.'s Council who was at Marquette last weekend to attend the council's meeting.

"Copper has electric and heat conductivity, it is corrosion resistant, has malleability (workability) and esthetics."

"It is getting harder for customers to substitute for copper in technological requirements. The easy substitutions have been made."

"We need substitutes in the less essential uses because we will never be able to meet all the potential demand and we shouldn't fear substitution while we are doing a good job of marketing. The industry is doing this now through the International Copper Research Association which operates worldwide in the free world, and through the Copper Development Associations in each country."

Long Term Trouble
"We haven't really turned the Association loose yet because we have been in a period of shortage and there is no point in trying to sell more than we can produce, but they are doing the basic work so that we can develop new markets for copper. They are working with the auto industry, which is using more copper, and using iron alloys with copper, and with high temperature copper alloys for glass molds in bottle machines, and in such usages. They're also working with architects."

"The government supervises distribution to the markets. The objective of the government is to interfere in the market place and attempt to control the price. It has seriously upset supply and demand because the flow is not going to those who produce copper."

"For short time control of inflation this is all right, but for a long time policy it creates a serious situation and the government knows it couldn't do this forever."

Difficult Year

"When I raised the price of copper last September they said that it was unjustified because we had one of the highest returns in industry. But we'd been developing White Pine from 1929 and there were no firm profits until 1962. We had risks and no production. We had no flow for many years. Investments must be recaptured if we are going to continue mining and explore for minerals and develop new mines. We need nest eggs and higher income than general industry."

"White Pine had a difficult year in 1966. Mining was in an area of low grade ore, so we had to mine more tons for production of fewer tons. At the same time we were spending a great deal of time and effort and money that we have not had the effects of yet. Our new smelter is heating up and we hope to be operating in mid-February. But it will be the end of March before the new mill will be producing and both should have been in production in December."

Champion Closing
"We're getting into high grade ore again although not as high as when we opened the mine. We produced 6 million tons of ore in 1966 and will produce more than 8 million tons in 1967, or 100 million pounds of copper, compared with our 1966 production of 130 million pounds."

"We're going to have to close the Champion Mine at Painesdale after spending three years looking for more copper to mine there. It is 68 years old and we've struggled with it for 6 or 7 years and have lost a little money. There is no problem of employment for its 126 workers in the mine and mill because there are jobs waiting for all of them. The main lode at the Champion was mined out years ago, but we kept it going to provide work."

Jaycees Cite William Good

William J. Good, Rte. 2, Bark River, was honored recently as the outstanding young farmer of the year in Menominee County by the Menominee Jaycees.

The Jaycees sponsored the award in cooperation with the Menominee County Farm Bureau.

Good and his father, Chester, of Harris Township, operate their farm in northern Menominee County near the Delta County line. The Goods have cleared 235 acres of a 360 acre farm and have 100 head of cattle, including 58 milking.

Bill has been in partnership with his father since his discharge from two years of Army service in 1959. He is a 1954 graduate of Bark River-Harris High School and lives in Bark River with his wife and three sons, Douglas, 7, Greg, 6, and Robert, 4. Electrical Code Course Offered At Bay College Bay de Noc Community College will offer a course on the National Electrical Code, on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. beginning Feb. 14. Classes will be held at the College in Room 306 of Catherine Bonifas Hall.

Peter Breclaw, Escanaba city electrical inspector will present the course which is intended to inform persons interested in or working with the installation, maintenance, inspection or sales and distribution of electrical service, wiring or appliances.

Revisions to the National Electrical Code are being made most frequently to accommodate the rapid growth of the electrical industry by the introduction of new materials, methods and consumer services. The course content will include for the first time code requirements and revisions applicable to travel trailers, mobile homes, electrical space heating, appliances and installations.

Registration and enrollment for the National Electrical Code course will be held at the first meeting of the class on Feb. 14. A course fee is required. Satisfactory completion of the requirements earns the student two hours of college credit.

County Home Rule Topic For League Of Women Voters

County home rule will be the subject of discussion at unit meetings of the Escanaba League of Women Voters next week.

The program will cover the history of county government and its present operation, the modernization of county government with special emphasis on the changes apportionment would bring about, and a comparison of the important aspects of the law itself with the presentation made to the Governor by the committee on Home Rule. The County Home Rule bill became a law on July 14, 1966.

The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to an attempt to arrive at a consensus of opinion on the law and possible amendments.

Mrs. David Farrand, chairman of the County Home Rule Committee, will lead the discussion. She will be assisted by Mrs. Florence Dufresne, Mrs. Irving Olsen, Mrs. Elnora Veder and Mrs. Jack Winters.

The membership is reminded that both the evening and morning meeting places are different this month. The Monday evening unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Jack Winters, 1306 16th Ave. S., at 8 p.m., Feb. 13; and the Wednesday morning unit at Mrs. C. J. Byrns, 515 S. 54th St. at 9:15 a.m., Feb. 15.

Interested women of Escanaba, Gladstone, and the surrounding area are cordially invited to attend.

Lincoln For Our Time

Out of a nation's natural need for heroes, the drama of a civil war and the tragedy of an assassin's bullet has grown the Lincoln legend.

As legends usually go, it is based on fact and compounded by numerous fictions.

Big, gentle, humble, jocular Abe Lincoln. "Honest Abe" as he was known even to his contemporaries. From log cabin to White House—laying the groundwork for a great American tradition. Country bumpkin makes good.

But it does him no justice to claim he was flawless. By making him larger than life we suggest that his virtues are beyond our own reach. By deifying the image we ignore the man and what he has to say to us.

It is not a collection of folk tales then that Lincoln left us, but a legacy of truth and character.

Teamsters As Policemen

The Escanaba City Council has declared unanimously that it will not accept the Teamsters Union as a bargaining agent for the city's policemen and the Teamsters, certified as the policemen's choice for a bargaining agent in a Michigan Labor Mediation Board election, have cited the City for unfair labor practice.

The action by City Council was a proper one and a courageous one which puts public duty before personal inclinations. One of the councilmen is an active member of the Teamsters, another has an honorary withdrawal card from the Teamsters and another has been an active union leader and spokesman throughout his working life. The regard which these men and their colleagues have for the working man has given the Escanaba City Council a paternal view of workers. It goes back a long way.

The councilmen all believed that Teamster representation for the policemen would be improper and intolerable and they are right.

In rejecting the Teamsters the City informed the Michigan Labor Mediation Board that the Board had erred in certifying the Teamsters as an acceptable bargaining agent for the city's policemen because:

1. Police should not belong to unions other than strictly fraternal organizations; to do so would create a conflict of interest. (To whom would the police be loyal in a contest of interest, the City or the Teamsters? If a citizen had a complaint against the Teamsters and it was processed by a Teamster-Policeman, how would the citizen regard the City's service of the public interest?)

2. Police Department sergeants are regarded by the City as true supervisors of police forces and yet they would be members of the Teamsters, exercising supervisory control over police action. (Who, in this situation would represent the public interest, unhampered by any industrial union allegiance, at the secondary level of department command?)

The City said it was not its contention that the police should have no voice or formal organization for collective bargaining. "But we feel that this organization should be a fraternal union with the interest of only police organizations in mind." The police have been represented by Local 68 of the Michigan Municipal Employees Union.

The issue which will face the Michigan Labor Mediation Board and, hopefully, the courts, because it is much broader than Teamsters vs. City and involves the basic question of how the public interest can be protected, is one of the hottest public questions in Michigan today.

The Michigan Municipal League, a "union" of city governments, unsuccessfully asked the Michigan Legislature when it was enacting Act 379 to make Michigan local governments live with public employee unionism, to restrict the right of policemen to join a bargaining unit to prevent membership in unions where there might be a conflict of interest.

Wisconsin has similar legislation and the Milwaukee Journal has said editorially "The specter of police strikes cannot be out of mind, despite the law's ban on public employee strikes. In Milwaukee specifically, the leadership of the union that wants to organize police and deputy sheriff locals has shown only contempt for the strike ban, has plainly said it will continue to counsel use of the strike weapon when it suits union purposes... Otherwise, conflict of interest will be present anyway, strikes or no strikes."

That our present Michigan legislation authorizing public employee representation is not protective of the public interest was cited recently by Atty. John N. Seaman of Lansing upon his retirement after 9 years as a distinguished member of the Michigan Civil Service Commission.

Collective bargaining for government employees, said Seaman "is so limited and circumscribed that it is not real collective bargaining at all, but something else. "Collective bargaining as it is known in the private sector of the economy is a practical impossibility within the framework of our democratic governmental structure. The sooner public employees and labor groups recognize this, the closer they will be to an equitable solution to their differences."

Seaman said the citizens are the real employers of government employees and they don't sit at the bargaining table and aren't consulted on commitments. In private employment workers may strike and bring economic penalties on their employer through competition from other manufacturers, but there is no competition nor third party to settle differences between government and its employees, so collective bargaining can't operate as it does in industry.

"As unionization of public employees accelerates," said Seaman "a substitute for true collective bargaining, requiring some sort of third party arbitration will be forced by law and public demand, in view of the work stoppages which are the inevitable by-product of attempts at true collective bargaining."

Even such a solution poses a problem which has been cited by Michigan Municipal League officials. They fear that we are headed toward an adjustment of government-employee disputes by an arbitration process in which the employer-citizenry will have lost control and be privileged only to pay the bills.

For its questioning of the propriety of representation of policemen by an assertive industrial union, Escanaba City Council merits public commendation.

...that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Industry Could Aid Govt. In Peninsula

By JEAN WORTH

The opportunities for cooperation of industry and government in the Upper Peninsula have been suggested as the key that could unlock the full usefulness of both sectors for development of the area.

Operation Action - U. P. moved to examine the possibilities of such cooperation and at its recent meeting at Northern Michigan University in Marquette it had a preliminary report from James Worthy of Cresap, McCormick & Paget, Chicago planning firm, on a study of the subject. It posed these preliminary conclusions:

1. There are significant ways in which private industry in general and Operation Action in particular can assist governmental agencies such as the Economic Development Administration and Office of Economic Opportunity to do a better job for the economy and the people of the Upper Peninsula.

2. The agencies themselves are likely to welcome constructive offers of cooperation and assistance.

3. Certain sectors of private business already are working with various governmental agencies, especially in the areas of training and development, and the result are encouraging.

4. The opportunities for fruitful industry-government cooperation in the U. P. appear to be particularly good.

During the past several years the federal government—and to some extent the state government—have poured many millions of dollars into the U. P. to strengthen its economy and improve the life of its people. EDA and OEO have been particularly active in these efforts.

The Operation Action preliminary study was undertaken to determine the effectiveness of these efforts and whether the results achieved are worth the costs, and also whether private industry might be able to assist these agencies to get more value for the money spent.

The study envisioned industrial aid to government efforts as taking forms like contribution of managerial know-how in the planning of government programs, cooperation in their execution and other activities not yet defined.

Financial support from the private sector was not envisioned.

Agency people indicated a good response from government could be looked for if constructive aid were offered by industry. Joseph Tuma, executive director of the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress, Escanaba, emphasized the need for "better linkages with the private sector," not only to employ the trainees from training programs, but to aid in planning such programs and in evaluating their results.

National Trend Worthy's report said that this type of industrial involvement in community concerns is in line with a rapidly developing trend in U. S. management thinking and that many projects of industry-government cooperation are underway in parts of the nation, but that there is no such program involving organized business participation in an area like the Upper Peninsula.

That closer collaboration between industry and government could produce significant mutual benefits, Cresap, McCormick & Paget suggested that an even more fruitful approach would appear to be a three-way partnership of industry, government and education.

University Role The universities provide a logical focal point through which certain collaborative efforts may be organized. Government can bring financial resources and program concepts to such efforts, but as an organization it is too remote and mechanically too cumbersome to provide maximum results.

Businessmen can bring assets of managerial skill to the effort, but tend to be too busy to provide the sustained operational direction required. Northern Michigan University, the study report states, could bring to a three-way partnership vitality, a growing role in the life of the area, a concept of community service and the respect of business and intellectual leaders.

No Budget The study did not include Michigan Tech at Houghton but presumed that it could also play a key role in such a partnership; and suggested that the contributions that Michigan State University could make should also be explored. All three universities are represented on the board of UPCAP, and buildings, said Worthy. The planners did not offer a program, only a finding that the prospect was promising and the suggestion that if Operation Action's Council approves, a plan of cooperation could be laid before government officials and representatives of other universities.

One of the subjects which the planners reported turning up persistently in their preliminary study was the need for greatly strengthened vocational and technical education in the Upper Peninsula. A major handicap to the economic progress of the area is the lack of an adequate supply of trained labor and this is due, in part at least, to lack of strong vocational and technical educational facilities at the high school and community college level.

Southern states which are trying to attract factories are now relying more on the lure of a trained labor force than on tax concessions or free land and buildings, said Worthy.

Bridge is not an exact science and never will be. We point out in "Win at Bridge" with Jacoby and Son that there is disagreement on how to respond to Blackwood when you are void of a suit.

The Jacoby method is to start by deciding if your void is a good one. Just what is a good void, anyway?

A good void is one in an unbid suit or in a suit that has been bid by your opponents. Now take a look at the bidding of today's hand. North has bid hearts and clubs and spades has become the agreed trump suit. South bids four no-trump and North is void of diamonds. It must be a good void. How can he show it?

Our method is to show the number of aces but to bid six, instead of five. Thus, North so a groundwork for cooperation exists.

The study suggested that any initial fusion of efforts be modest, focusing on a few areas of mutual concern where results could be expected. Little in organization or structured relationships was suggested, but rather informal contacts through Operation Action, UPACAP and the universities.

No staff or budget was envisioned.

The planners did not offer a program, only a finding that the prospect was promising and the suggestion that if Operation Action's Council approves, a plan of cooperation could be laid before government officials and representatives of other universities.

One of the subjects which the planners reported turning up persistently in their preliminary study was the need for greatly strengthened vocational and technical education in the Upper Peninsula. responds six hearts to the Blackwood four no-trump. South knows that North has two aces and is void of a suit and from the bidding South knows the void is in diamonds. South can bid seven spades and be certain of success providing the opening lead isn't ruffed by East.

It looks as if South took a chance when he bid four no-trump with those three diamonds. It wasn't much of a chance. North had opened the bidding with one heart, had gone to three clubs over two spades and then raised spades. South was prepared to gamble that North would not hold as many as two diamonds and would have gone to six spades if North had merely shown two aces.

A final word of caution. This is a fine bid but be sure you and your partner are in complete agreement before you start using it.

Highway Fund Fourth Quarter Checks Mailed

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has started distribution of $4.71 million in fourth quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections.

The total, mostly from gasoline taxes and license fees, was up $2.50 million from the previous year. The money represents collections during the last three months of 1966.

Following deduction of collection costs, the Highway Department receives 47 per cent of the total, the counties 35 per cent and the cities and villages 18 per cent.

The Highway Department will receive $30.41 million, the counties $22.65 million and the cities and villages $11.64 million.

Counties receiving funds over the $1 million mark include Wayne with $4.28 million, Oakland with $1.35 million and Kent with $1 million.

Smallest slice went to the Upper Peninsula's Keweenaw County, with $45,107.

Detroit topped the cities, receiving $2.99 million.

Power Expansion

PETOSKEY (AP) — A major high-voltage transmission line, expansion of substations and construction of a service center are among $6.7 million in expenditures planned by Consumers Power Co. for northern Lower Michigan in 1967.

Ann Landers

Shouts, Like Using Horn To Steer Car

Dear Ann Landers: Often parents ask you to print something because, as they put it, "Teen-agers will listen to you, Ann Landers, when they will not listen to us, even though we say the same thing."

I'm a teen-ager who is making a similar plea. Parents will listen to you, Ann Landers, when they will not listen to us. So please print my letter.

Ever since I can remember, my folks have been promising me a bedroom of my own. I am a 16-year-old girl who is still sharing a room with a bratty 14-year-old brother.

Last night I asked again for a bedroom of my own. Dad said, "It doesn't pay now. You will be going to college in two years."

My dreams of privacy have been shattered and I am sick at heart. Please help me.—FISHBOWL EXISTENCE

Dear Fishbowl: If your parents give you a bedroom of your own immediately, they will be about four years late.

When a girl reaches her 12th birthday all hell should be out of her bedroom, even very young brothers who may seem like babies to their parents.

If your Mom and Dad won't take my word for it ask them to check with the family physician.

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter Bernice is a quiet, hard working person who everybody takes advantage of. Please tell me what should be done about the latest incident.

A neighbor asked Bernice if she would help her cut strips of material for rag rugs. This is a tedious job and most people wouldn't do it for any price. The neighbor paid Bernice $3.50 for the evening's work and asked her if she would come back and help her sew the strings together.

Bernice put in three nights' work, and she even brought her own sewing machine. As Bernice was leaving, the neighbor handed her a little decorative pillow which probably came from the dime store and said, "This is to show my appreciation. I decided not to insult you by offering you money as I did the first night you helped me."

UPCAP Urges U.P. Home Industries

Several guidelines for the economic development of rural areas were presented by UPCAP Executive Chairman Harold Dettman in testimony before the President's National Advisory Commission on Rural Poverty Feb. 2.

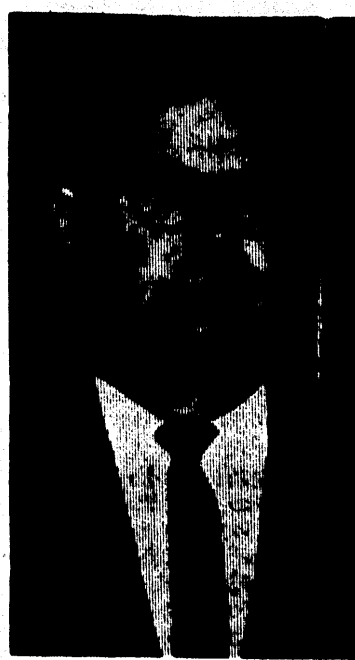

The Commission is studying the effectiveness of current programs and changes needed to make the economic and social life in rural America more effective.

Dettman stressed the need for a shift in emphasis in the Upper Peninsula from an area relying on natural resources to an economy based on mining, manufacturing and tourism.

He explained the development of the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress over the past five years and the programs and services it has developed for community action, small business loans, industrial development, legal aid to the indigent, manpower training, on-the-job training, housing and community planning, and the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

Guiding Principles
"In the conduct of these programs, UPCAP is guided by three principles," Dettman of St. Ignace, said. "These are planning for comprehensive development, working with local planning bodies, as well as carrying out regional planning and working cooperatively with other established institutions in the region."

Dettman reported that through UPCAP programs 13

Harold Dettman

U.P. plants have been built or expanded, mostly in rural communities under the industrial development program, and some 357 new jobs have been created.

As of January, some 86 small loans totaling over $1,230,000 have been made to small businesses in the U.P. through the UPCAP Small Business Development Center Program. The on-the-job training program provides for 800 trainees to update or learn new skills to increase their earning power.

In presenting recommendations for action against rural poverty, Dettman said, "We believe that many of the recommendations we are making today can be implemented in other areas of the nation as well as in the Upper Peninsula."

Home Industries Urged
Comprehensive community planning must be made for the development of all natural, human, and community resources, Dettman said. The problems facing small communities are so great that they only can be met effectively by planning on a multi-community basis.

"We recommend that rural areas concentrate on a 'home industries' program," Dettman said, "to develop small business enterprises, originating locally, employing small numbers of people. This approach holds far more promise of success than trying to induce large companies from the outside to locate sizeable plants in rural areas. This does happen frequently, but for most communities trying to land a 'big' industry is following the will-o-the-wisp."

Agencies established in local areas should work together to coordinate and make maximum use of various programs to train available manpower, Dettman said.

School district consolidation should be hastened, the UPCAP speaker recommended. Schools should put greater emphasis on vocational education, and school districts should work cooperatively to improve school programs.

"Communities should take action to improve housing, health facilities, and services for the elderly," Dettman suggested. "There is much they can do if they organize themselves into large planning units to take advantage of state and federal funds now available."

Dettman urged that Congress insure that rural areas receive their proportionate share of funds allocated to fight poverty under the economic opportunity program.

"I know of no single panacea for rural poverty conditions," he concluded. "However, I believe that rural communities can do much if they learn to think big and if they unite with their neighboring communities in broad and comprehensive planning programs."

Fiscal Reform To Deadlock, Says Ferency

LANSING (AP) — A deadlock or stalemate is likely to develop in the Legislature over the fiscal reform issue, Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency predicted today.

Ferency, speaking at a fiscal reform seminar in Lansing, said the deadlock that developed in the marathon 1966 legislative session "is on the verge of being duplicated because of the completely unrealistic and untenable position taken by Gov. George Romney."

Romney insists taxes must be passed ahead of the budget, Ferency said, and House Democratic Leader Joseph Kowalski responds that taxes should not be enacted until appropriations are made.

Ferency said there is a chance the Romney philosophy will prevail. But he said if there is any defection in the Republican ranks and Democratic votes are needed "Then Romney will have to compromise and start talking about the level of spending for critical programs such as education and mental health."

"In order to avoid a disastrous stalemate which could benefit no one, the whole revenue and tax aspect of the budget should be set aside until agreements can be reached with respect to improved programs in education, mental health and conservation," Ferency said.

"No one wants to discuss higher taxes in a vacuum," Ferency said. "People are prepared to pay more, but they want to see what they are getting for their money."

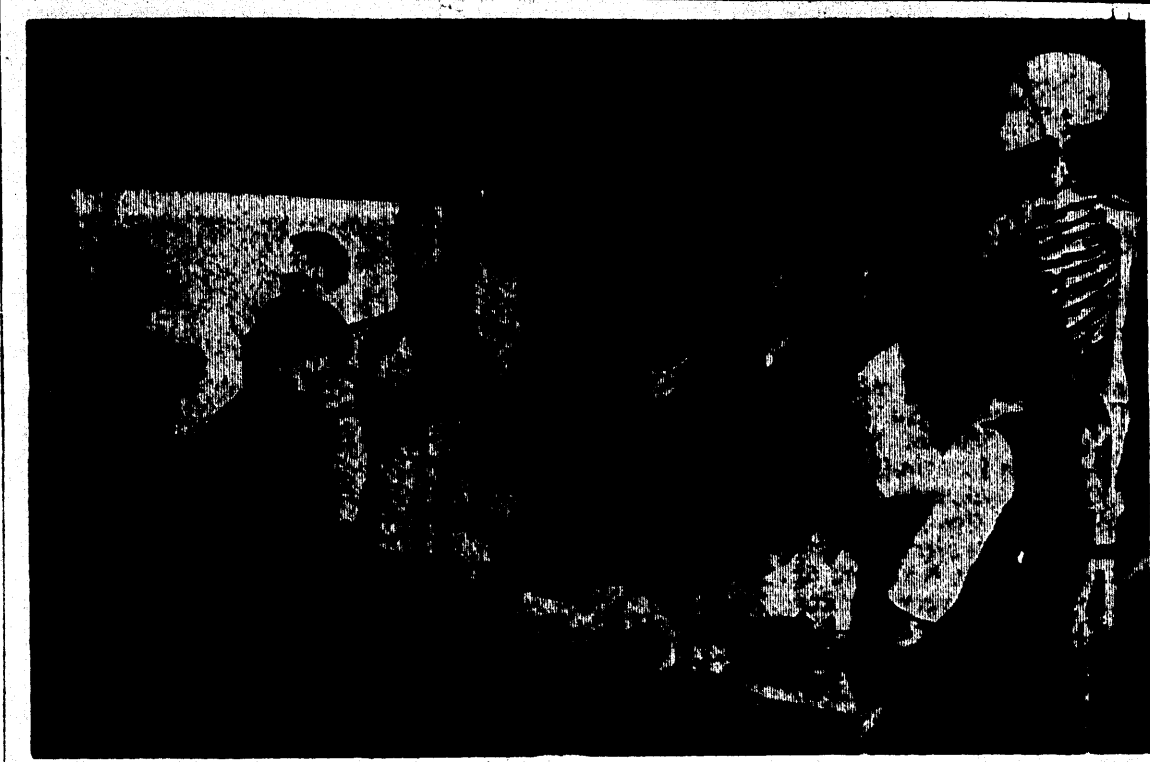

Self Rule Is Price Of Peace, Brandt Declares

CHICAGO (AP) — Self-determination of nations must be achieved before there is peaceful order in Europe, says West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt.

"Together with France, we are going about the task of bridging the gulf in Europe which cuts off the nations in the East from the nations in the West and which has split my own country apart," Brandt said in a speech Friday night at the inaugural dinner of the Adlai Stevenson Institute of International Affairs.

Alumni Reunion Yields Bonus To Rapid River

RAPID RIVER — A reunion of Rapid River high school alumni has resulted in an educational bonus for students of the school district.

New science laboratory equipment was purchased with money given to the schools by Rapid River alumni which was matched with funds from Title III of the National Defense Education Act.

It all began in the spring of 1965, when Mrs. Jenny Crane and Rapid River's Postmaster, John S. Miller, decided it would be great fun to have a Rapid River alumni reunion. Plans were made to include classes from 1911 to 1955.

The celebration was held Aug. 14, 1965, at the Dutch Mill and was so successful — attracting over 500 alumni and wives from throughout the United States — that $348 remained after expenses. The money was turned over to the school district.

School officials used the money with NDEA matching funds to purchase science equipment for both elementary and secondary programs.

Equipment purchased includes a human torso and skeleton with removable parts, a model of a three-root molar, and a model of an ear all made from synthetic materials, an elementary planetarium and a wall relief map of North America. The equipment is being used in the science classes of Marc Hebert, biology, chemistry and eighth grade science; Mrs. Linda Coleman in seventh grade life science, and by Bernard Olson in ninth grade physical science. Science classes in the elementary grades will also use the materials.

Saginaw Police Next Step Waits Report From Lab

SAGINAW (AP) — Saginaw authorities awaited a report today from the State Police Crime Laboratory before making their next move in the investigation of two mopey-shrouded double murders.

A news blackout continued in effect, but police sources said at least two suspects were being detained on armed robbery charges and might be charged with murder.

Saginaw County Prosecutor Robert Currie indicated the investigation was marking time until the State Police tests were completed and a report sent from the East Lansing headquarters.

Currie ordered the blackout on information Thursday after police had been saying for several days that the investigation was very near its conclusion.

Victims of the double slayings were Dr. and Mrs. Archer Claylor, who were found slain in their $50,000 home last Thursday, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Middendorf, whose bodies were discovered in their house Sunday.

Claylor, 73, was a former U.S. commissioner to the Virgin Islands.

Middendorf, 63, was a onetime parochial school principal and teacher.

Possible motives for the four murders have not been disclosed, although Police Chief Joseph Bugenake said he believed there was a connection between the two cases.

Griffin Blasts Bureau Buildup

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., said Friday that Michigan Republicans are striving for a sound economic and social structure that is built from the bottom up—not the top down.

In the first of a week-long series of Lincoln Day speeches in the state, Griffin said under Gov. George Romney's leadership thousands of new young workers have been attracted to the GOP.

"The average Michigan citizen of today is less than 30 years old," Griffin said. "He wants to be treated as an individual, not as part of a special interest group or the faceless mass."

"He wants a government that will serve him, not one that stifles initiative. He wants a government he can turn to, not one that manages his life."

Griffin said that Democrats often seek to solve problems by putting more bureaucrats on the federal payroll, "creating more problems and setting up more agencies."

Govt. Asks Gas Price Rollback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is trying to get oil companies to roll back gasoline price increases which could cost motorists a penny a gallon — but the first industry reaction is negative.

Charles F. Luce, acting secretary of the Interior in the absence of Stewart L. Udall, sent telegrams to eight companies protesting their increases and to three others asking them not to follow suit.

Even as he wired, one of the three, Texaco, raised its prices. Phillips Petroleum Co. wired back to Luce that "business cannot continue to absorb cost increases as suggested by your telegram."

Phillips raised its price to dealers by six-tenths of a cent a gallon and suggested dealers add another four-tenths to the retail price.

Luce had wired that "the national interest in stable prices requires me to request that you rescind this price increase."

Besides Phillips and Texaco, prices have been raised by American Oil Co., Continental Oil, Cities Service, Gulf, Sinclair, Sunray Oil and Mobil.

Luce asked Shell and Humble not to follow suit.

The increases are to dealers and large commercial customers through most of the country east of the Rockies and to wholesalers in many states.

State's 'Native' Salmon Do Well

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's first native-born salmon "are doing just fine."

So are two other species of salmon, being raised at hatcheries at Oden and Harrietta from imported eggs.

About 22,000 Coho Salmon have been hatched from eggs of early-maturing Cohos planted in Michigan for the first time last spring. The fish now are in the fry stage at the Harrietta hatchery.

The successful hatching raises hopes that Michigan will soon have its own source of fertile eggs. The tiny Cohos will be nursed until they can be planted in suitable streams in the spring of 1968.

Some 1 million Chinook Salmon fry are being raised at the Oden hatchery, near Pellston. The Chinooks, hatched from eggs obtained from Washington State, will be released this spring when they are three to four inches long.

The Chinook Salmon are expected to grow to about 40 pounds.

About 850,000 Kokanee Salmon eggs are expected to start hatching soon at the Harrietta facility. These fish will be released in Torch Lake, Antrim County, and Higgins Lake, Roscommon County.

An over-supply of Alewives has been creating a nuisance in the Great Lakes. The first release of salmon showed the tiny Alewives constitute an ideal food supply for the predator salmon.

The first salmon released grew tremendously in just one summer in the lakes. A few returned to the release streams to spawn, although these salmon normally only spawn every two years.

Cold Weather Cut Wintering Duck Numbers

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's winter weather conditions weren't for the birds.

A check showed most of the ducks that generally spend the winter in Michigan ducked out this year.

A January count at major waterfowl concentration points showed only an estimated 37,000 ducks in the state.

This was 24,000 less than the previous year and the lowest total since 1962.

The County by the State Conservation Department and U. S. Wildlife Bureau also showed a decline in Canada geese and swans.

The Canada geese count was 5,950 compared to 6,200 a year ago. There were only 295 swans spotted compared to 1,200 in 1966.

A freeze which left few open waters was blamed for the drastic declines. Lake St. Clair, the Detroit River and Lake Erie, the state's major waterfowl areas, were covered with ice. Lakes Michigan and Huron both had shore ice.

Conservation Department men said the effect of the drop in wintering birds will not be known until a survey is made of the number of migrant birds expected.

Powell Record Profit Taxable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of those recording profits which Adam Clayton Powell plans to use to pay off a court judgment apparently will go to Uncle Sam.

The Internal Revenue Service declined today to discuss Powell's case because of laws against disclosing individual income tax information.

But in response to an inquiry, it said any income from a performance is taxable even if the money is directed to another person.

Powell's recording, "Keep the Faith, Baby," went on sale Jan. 25 and the record company expects sales to reach 1 million copies. Powell gets 22 cents per record.

Last week, the congressman-elect finally paid off an original libel judgement to Esther James, a Harlem widow, with a $32,480 advance on the new recording.

The check represented final payment of an original $46,500 libel judgement against Powell, who on a 1960 television program called Mrs. James a bag woman or guff collector for crooked policemen.

Penalties and interest have boosted the total amount to $174,000 but Powell has appealed the additional levy to the Court of Appeals.

GLADSTONE

Hupy Member Of Joseph Ludick, Kipling, Dies

APPLETON, Wis.—Twenty-five years ago this weekend, a group of young men, most of them students at what is now Northern Michigan University, Marquette, were inducted into the U.S. Navy Air Force at Glenview, Ill.

This weekend, 18 of the original 25 members of the appropriately named "Wildcat Squadron" are gathering here at the Conway Motor Hotel for their first reunion since World War II.

Members of the squadron will recall the impact the news had on them when they learned that buddies like Albert Ner-kala, Nestoria, Ralph Gunville, Munising and Ralph Hannala, Negaunee, were listed as missing or "killed in action." All were Northern graduates.

They'll realize how fortunate and lucky they were to have survived, another "war to end all wars." People like former NMU "Wildcat" football player Norman "Boots" Kukuk of Marquette who flew off the decks of the aircraft carrier Coral Sea and later engaged Japanese fighters over a then relatively unknown island called Bougainville, and Ira "The Keeford," a native of Muskegon, who reportedly became the Navy's first air ace in the South Pacific with 16 "kills."

There'll be George Buckley, Appleton's mayor and host for the reunion; Negaunee, natives John Fellow of South Bend, Ind., and Albert Jokela, who now works at Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio; Thomas Fagan, an East Lansing attorney who along with squadron members Albert Nyquist, Chetsworth, Calif., Clint Goudreau, Jackson, Mich., Blake Ford, Prairie Village, Kan., and Robert Johnson, Chula Vista, Calif., was born and reared in Marquette.

One member of Wildcat Training Squadron, Capt. Howard Mott, a native of Manistique who is now stationed in Italy, also will be in attendance.

Other ex-aviators of the squadron, in addition to Kukuk who returned to the Upper Peninsula include Orlando Spigarelli and former Olympic Ski Team coach Walter Bietala who live in Iron Mountain, and Robert Hupy of Gladstone.

Redmen Trip Braves With Late Rally

GLADSTONE — Coach Bill Wood's Gladstone Braves saw a Great Lakes Conference victory slip out of their grasp here Friday night as Marquette rallied for a 71-58 verdict.

The youthful Braves blazed to a comfortable early lead but couldn't stand the prosperity. They came out in the second half and promptly blew it to the hungry Redmen.

Mistakes proved costly as the Braves committed 28 turnovers in the game. They lost the ball eight times in the fourth quarter alone. They also lost their shooting eyes in the stretch, connecting on only two of their last 14 field goal attempts.

It was a cold and miserable night for the Braves who were able to connect on only 21 of 82 shots for the game, a chilly 25 per cent. They fared better from the foul line with 16 of 22. Marquette hit 31 of 84 from the field and 9 of 26 from the line.

The Braves got off to an impressive start with a 15-4 lead over the Redmen in the first quarter and fought off a second period rally to take the intermission with a 30-23 cushion.

Marquette started its comeback in the third period and narrowed the gap to one point, 52-51, entering the fourth frame.

Steve Andrews, red hot in the second half, continued to burn the nets in the stretch and boosted the Redmen into a 55-52 lead with a pair of quick buckets in the fourth quarter. Marquette ripped out to a 61-54 lead midway through the period and the Braves fell apart. Marquette scored the last eight points in the game as the Braves failed to score in the closing three and a half minutes.

Andrews turned in his best scoring performance of the season with 14 field goals and a free throw for 29 points. Larry Ruffatto also reached double figures with 17 and Jim Anderson added 10 for Fred Taccolli's visitors.

John Watson came off the bench to score 11 points and also grabbed nine rebounds for the Braves. Steve Nelson led the Gladstone attack with 15 points and guard Dan Pepin added 12.

All Saints topped the Gladstone 8th graders in the preliminary, 39-35.

Rock Rebounds Against Broncs

ROCK — The Rock Little Giants rebounded from their costly Central League defeat at the hands of Trenary earlier in the week to nip Bark River, 61-59, in conference action here Friday night.

Coach Gene DeKeyser's cagers won on a final second shot by Jim LaCasse that spread the laces as the buzzer sounded. It was the only time that Rock led in the game.

Bark River-Harris led through the contest until Pat Dube's field goal tied the score at 57-57 with 1:44 to go. The score was deadlocked again at 59-59 to set the stage for LaCasse's winning bucket.

John Smith of the Broncs took scoring honors with 23 points and Larry Lippens of Rock tallied 22.

Rock won the jayvee game, 72-38.

Mexico Altitude Thorny Problem

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The top brass of the Olympic movement went into secret session today with a massive 27-point agenda — and the controversial question of high altitude training for Mexico hung ominously over the talks.

The International Olympic Committee has ruled that training at high altitude must be restricted shortly before next year's Summer Olympics in Mexico.

Reason: Mexico is 7,000 feet above sea level and months of training at high altitude would give the lucky athletes a big advantage over their rivals.

Some countries — like Russia and Kenya — have established high altitude training camps. Athletes who live in those areas, according to Olympic officials, are allowed to train there.

But the question has been raised by some sports officials: "Is it inside the Olympic code for athletes outside these areas to train there for long periods over the next year, then leave the camp for a few weeks and return later to meet the Olympic rule of restricted training immediately before the Games?"

It is expected this thorny question will be buzzing on the sidelines of executive board meeting of the IOC today and Sunday — a meeting to be presided over by 79-year-old president Avery Brundage of Chicago.

Brundage made one thing clear on his arrival in Copenhagen — that world records set in the sprints in Mexico should be officially recognized.

Sprinters should benefit from running at high altitude. The long distance runners will suffer.

Brundage, commenting about the thin air problem, said "The Olympics belong to the world — east and west, high and low, hot and cold, dry and damp. It's now Mexico's turn to stage the Olympics."

Brundage thought it possible study of how athletes react to competing in Mexico's high altitude could provide valuable information about how people function at an altitude.

Tigers Defeated By Railroaders

POWERS-SPALDING — The Powers-Spalding Tigers slipped slowly behind the Channing Railroaders here Friday night and dropped a 71-61 Big Seven Conference decision.

Coach Tom LeQuila's Tigers battled back to knot the score early in the third period but fell off the pace in the stretch as Craig Lindeman sparked Channing with a key three-point play.

Lindeman led both teams in scoring with 23 points while Tom Bettors tallied 18 and Scott Riedy 17 for the Tigers.

That was Paul Valenti, Oregon State basketball coach, talking Friday night after his Beavers had absorbed a 76-44 lacing from the top-ranked UCLA Bruins and Lew Alcindor, their 7-foot-1 agile super-sophomore.

A crowd of 12,883 at UCLA's Pauley Pavilion saw Big Lew lead a 16-point spree early in the second half that turned a close game into a rout.

Alcindor scored 22 points, 12 of them in the burst that increased UCLA's lead from 35-30 to 61-35. He was given an ovation when he left the game with a 24-minute play and UCLA ahead by 24 points at 64-42.

It was the 19th straight triumph for the unbeaten Utes and overshadowed the narrow escape from defeat at the Princeton Tigers, fourth-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll, at the hands of underdog Yale at New Haven.

Yale stormed from behind to wipe out a 14-point deficit and take the lead, but Princeton rallied to tie at 60-60 on Joe Heiser's corner shot and win 64-60 on Gary Walker's free throw in the

Comets Climb Nearer Central League Crown

TRENNARY — The Trenary Comets took another giant stride toward the Central League throne here Friday night with a 59-46 victory over defending champion Rapid River.

Coach Steve Ellis' cagers, shooting for their first conference championship in history, ran their league record to 13-0 with two games remaining against Garden and Bark River, both on the road.

The Comets need a combination of one victory or one Rock defeat to clinch their initial Central League pennant.

The Rapid River Rockets refused to roll over for the Comets here last night and battled to a 29-29 standoff in the first half.

Trenary turned on a devastating full court press in the third quarter and hammered out a 20-7 advantage to clinch the verdict. The Comets forced the Rockets into seven turnovers in the period.

Kim Peterson was limited to 21 points, his second lowest output of the season, and Randy Stine came through with 10 for Trenary. Alan Paul led Rapid River with 11.

GNC Board Rules On Ineligibility Case

Conference Says Maroons Must Forfeit All League Victories

The Great Northern Conference, following the lead of the Michigan High School Athletic Association, has ruled that Menominee High School must forfeit all conference football and basketball games in which an ineligible player competed this school season.

The decision was made at a meeting of the conference board of control, composed of principals of the six high schools in the conference, Friday at Holy Name High School.

In making its decision, the Great Northern Board also ruled that Menominee High School must forfeit the Great Northern Conference championship trophy in football, which it earned with a 5-0 record last fall. Escanaba High School, which had lost only to Menominee in conference competition, will replace the Maroons as champion and will receive the trophy.

The GNC board of control issued the following statement at the conclusion of its Friday meeting:

"The Great Northern Conference, being affiliated with the Michigan High School Athletic Association, must abide by the state regulations regarding eligibility and therefore unanimously agree with the state office decision of forfeiture of games, conference and non-conference. However, the conference feels that the State Association of office should have made the decision at the beginning."

The executive committee of the Michigan High School Athletic Association had earlier ruled that Menominee must forfeit all non-conference games in which the ineligible player competed, but added that in the matter of forfeiture of Great Northern Conference games the conference should make its own decision.

Triggering the case was Menominee athlete Joe Gypp who became 19 years of age on Aug. 17, 1966, making him ineligible for competition in his senior year. Gypp had falsified his birth date on some school records, but not on all of them, in an effort to gain an extra year of eligibility. School officials stated he admitted his actions and it was reported to Charles E. Forsythe, state high school athletic director in Lansing.

In addition to costing Menominee the Great Northern football championship and trophy, the action of the GNC board of control has caused a revision of the current conference basketball standings. Gypp competed in two conference basketball games in which Menominee defeated Kingsford and Iron Mountain.

Forfeiture of those two games results in the following conference basketball standing:

Team	W	L
Escanaba	6	0
Iron Mountain	3	1
Holy Name	2	2
Kingsford	2	2
Menominee	1	5
Stephenston	0	4

The revised standings in the 1966 Great Northern Conference football race:

Team	W	L
Escanaba	5	0
Holy Name	4	1
Iron Mountain	3	2
Kingsford	2	3
Stephenston	1	4
Menominee	0	5

The board of control ruled that any team or individual conference records established by Menominee in football and basketball this season will not be wiped out of the record books.

The Escanaba Eskymo wrestling team suffered its second setback to Iron Mountain Friday night, bowing by a 25 to 19 margin.

In one of the feature matches, Escanaba's John Bennett decided George Bennett to gain revenge for an earlier defeat this season.

The Eskymos will meet Holy Name in a home stand Tuesday night at 7:30.

Menominee Gets Revenge, Licks Crusader Quint

MENOMINEE — The Menominee Maroons got revenge for a previous upset at the hands of the Holy Name Crusaders by whipping the visitors, 66-40, in Great Northern Conference action here Friday night.

Menominee opened with a blistering attack in the first half, connecting on 53 per cent of its field goal attempts while storming to a 40-16 lead at the intermission. The Maroons locked it up with 18 more points in the third period to enter the final frame with a 58-23 bulge over the cold Crusaders.

The Maroons used a glue like full court press to rattle the Crusader cagers and then turned on the steam with a fast break attack that produced a half dozen solo layups.

Holy Name drew first blood in the game when Tom Smith flipped in two field goals for a 4-0 lead, but then the roof caved in. The Crusaders were able to add only five more field goals in the entire first half.

For the game, Holy Name made 17 of 58 field goal attempts and 6 of 15 from the charity line. The Maroons shot 42 per cent from the field, 25 of 59, and pumped in 16 of 22 from the line.

Pat Miller, Menominee's 6 foot 3 inch junior center, led all scorers with 16 points, well below his conference average of 25 per game.

Smith was the lone Crusader to reach double figures with four field goals and two free throws for 10 points.

Menominee also took the junior varsity game, 70-45.

Packers Give Up Golden Boy

Hornung To Lead Way As Saints Go Marching

NEW YORK (AP) — When the New Orleans Saints come marching in, Paul Hornung will be leading the combo. And Jim Taylor just might be a member of the group.

Hornung, the former Golden Boy of the Green Bay Packers and Notre Dame, was the big name among the 42 veterans selected Friday by Coach Tom Fears of the New Orleans entry in the National Football League. Taylor, who played out his option with the Packers in 1966, is due to discuss business with Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi before May 1 when he becomes a free agent. The veteran fullback, a Louisiana State alumnus, would be a natural for the Bayou country.

Although Hornung saw limited service last year and did not play in either the NFL title game or the Super Bowl, Fears is confident he still can play good football. Hornung agrees.

The 42 players from the 14 other NFL teams (Atlanta was exempted) cost about $8.5 million. That breaks down to about $200,000 a player.

Fears and the New Orleans brass, including owner John Mecom Jr., made the picks late Thursday from lists provided by the other clubs. They were announced Friday after the players were notified. Each club was able to freeze 29 players from the 40-man unit that opened the season. New Orleans then took one from each of the

Knew It Was Coming, Yet Hard To Believe

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Paul Hornung, the Golden Boy of the National Football League for the past 10 years, has made his exit from the Green Bay Packers but one of the league's richest rookies, Donny Anderson, is waiting in the wings.

Hornung, who missed most of the 1966 season with a pinched nerve, was taken Friday by the New Orleans Saints in the NFL draft to stock the new team.

"It's hard to realize that after 10 years I won't be with the Packers next year," Hornung said.

"I knew I was going to be on the list," Hornung said. "I talked it over with Coach Vince Lombardi and you have to take into consideration my injury and all."

"It's just that it hasn't all sunk in yet."

Whether or not Hornung will be able to play for the new NFL expansion club is problematical. Asked if he'll play for the Saints, Hornung said, "I'll just have to wait and see how the shoulder progresses before making any decision. Right now it feels fine."

The 31-year-old Hornung, once called "the world's greatest living football player," came to the Packers in 1957 from Notre Dame where he was an All-American and Heisman Trophy winner.

At Green Bay, Hornung led the Packers in scoring in 1958 and 1959 and set a league scoring record of 176 points in 1960.

Hornung's performance last season was a far cry from the Golden Boy's glory days, but New Orleans Coach Tom Fears is eager to give Hornung another chance in 1967 when the Saints go marching into their first NFL season.

The Michigan Wolverines are beginning to feel the loss of scoring star Mel Wakabayashi graduated in January.

In other WCHA games, Michigan Tech beat Minnesota-Duluth 6-4 and North Dakota edged Minnesota 3-2.

A power play goal by Tom Mikkola with less than two minutes to play provided MSU's victory margin over Michigan. The Spartans jumped off to a quick lead on two first-period goals by Mike Jacobsen.

MSU was leading 3-1 when Mike Martilla scored back-to-back goals for the Wolverines to knot the score at 3-3 in the third period. Then Mikkola scored the winning tally.

The victory brought MSU's league record to 5-4-1. The Spartans stand 8-12-1 overall and Michigan is 16-3-1 for the season.

Michigan Tech led all the way in beating Minnesota-Duluth. Gary Milroy led the Huskie attack with two goals. Milroy, Wayne Weller and Pete Grant got Tech off to a 3-0 lead in the first period and they never trailed again.

Tech goalie Rick Best had 39 saves to 24 for Duluth's Dave Lablane.

The victory boosted Tech's WCHA record to 8-5-1 while UMD now stands 5-6.

title fight at Houston last Monday night.

The beaten fighter, whose left eye was half shut and who was cut over the right eye, was the thumping caused double vision and was mainly responsible for his defeat.

"I was too fast for him," said Clay, viewing the film. "No wonder he thought he saw two or three of me."

The film shows that Terrell's left eye started swelling in the third round, well before the two wrestled on the ropes, and failed to show any thumping by Clay.

A barrage of punches and a solid right uppercut to the eye in the third round might have caused the damage to the eye. The film also shows Terrell was guilty of repeated low blows, hitting behind the neck, hitting on the break, butting and palming or heeling — rubbing the palm of his glove against Clay's face.

"While you're looking for my first foul, note that he's fouled me about 80 times," said Clay, who prefers to be known by his Muslim name, Muhammad Ali. Clay apologized for "making the ring a speaking rostrum," for taunting Terrell by asking him "What's my name?" and calling him "an Uncle Tom" among other things.

"But I'm not apologizing for whipping him," added Clay. "I'm out to be cruel — that's what the boxing game is about."

Terrell, who underwent surgery Thursday for an injured left eyeball, accused Clay of poking his thumb in his left eye and rubbing his eye against the ropes in the third round of the BOSTON (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors suffered a crippling blow Friday night as Nate Thurmond suffered two broken bones in his left hand in a 137-136 National Basketball Association loss in double overtime to the Boston Celtics.

Thurmond, a 6-foot-11 member of the NBA's Western Division All-Star team, was injured in a scramble midway through the second period after he had scored 10 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

Clay's Lawyer Confident Champ Won't Be Drafted, At Least Not This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The attorney who is handling Cassius Clay's draft appeal says the heavyweight champion will have plenty of time this year to keep his five-fight-a-year program.

That means there's hope for Zora Folley, Thad Spencer,

George Chuvalo and probably either Floyd Patterson or Sonny Liston. Clay already has beaten Chuvalo and Patterson and stopped Liston twice, the last one in the one-punch quickie in Lewiston, Maine.

Hayden Covington, a white attorney who has handled many draft appeals for church groups and individuals, said Friday that "under due process of law Clay couldn't possibly be drafted this year — if he's ever drafted."

Covington said he was confident Clay would win his appeal as a minister for the Black Muslims.

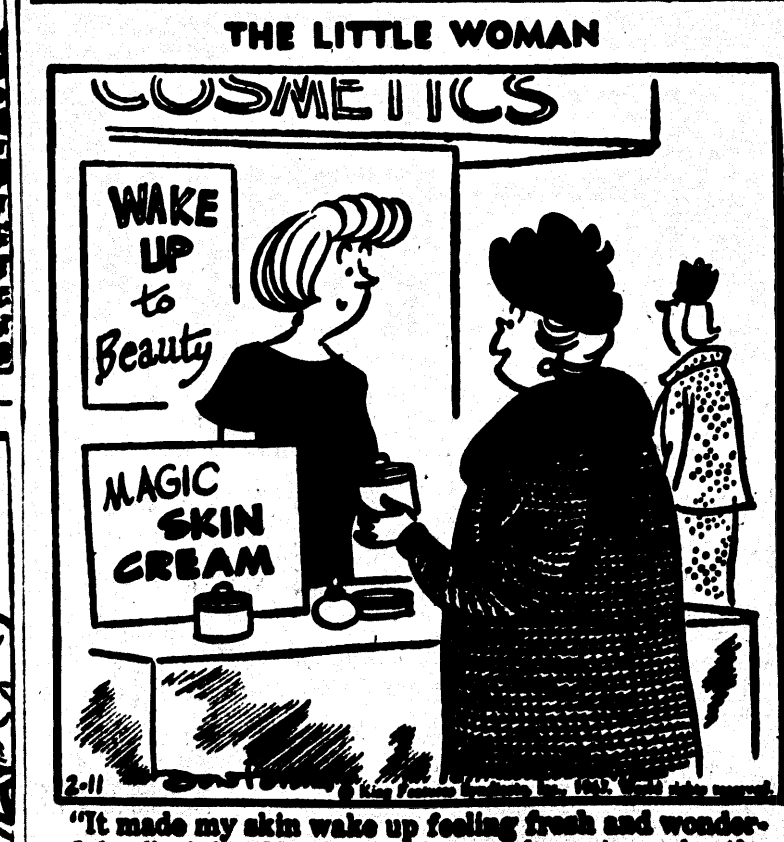

The lawyer, a Texas who has been practicing law in New York since 1960, said the case eventually could go to the Supreme Court and added "We will win" if it does.

Covington and members of Clay's advisory group were with the champion when he made a commentary of the film of his fight with Ernie Terrell for ABC's Wide World of Sports.

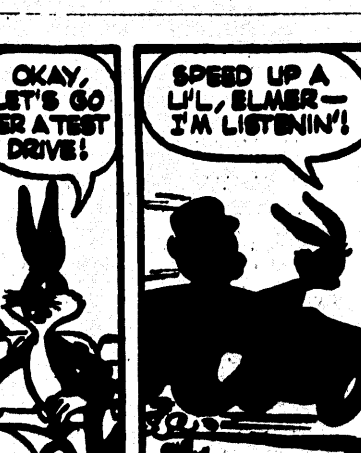

Key rounds will be shown on ABC today at 5 p.m., EDT.

The film completely cleared Clay of Terrell's charges of fouls and showed that it was the 6-foot-4 Terrell who did all the fouling.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

When Abraham Lincoln sat quietly reading a book, it's doubtful that he ever imagined that one day his giant, brooding statue would be a national landmark, and that he would be known throughout the world.

Basically, Lincoln was a simple man, his nature as essentially rugged and rustic as the log cabin in which he was born. His life, from beginning to end, was a hard one, physically, mentally, and spiritually. Yet, throughout terrible trial, he never lost his faith in God.

Lincoln wasn't "born religious." Faith came to him the hard way, just as everything else did. But once he had found it, his devotion knew no limit. Most of the great men in our country's history have been devoted. Why? Because experience has shown them that no man can go it alone. That we, all of us, need God's guidance.

The place to seek that guidance is in the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
